PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF NORTH QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRINCIPAL JAMES S. COLLINS

This year book of the Class of 1938 at North Quincy High School, the first separate year book in its history, presents many evidences of an enjoyable as well as a profitable school career for a large number of graduates.

Here may be found individual and group pictures with their titles and comments, which should be a source of pleasure and inspiration throughout the lives of those represented on its pages. Thus their high school days may be recalled as a period of achievement and joy, which has served as a real preparation for the days and years to follow.

The cover and motif represent a very appropriate subject—a ship sailing over the waters. Its destination is known to the mariner, who can always determine his location and bearing from the position of the North Star. In whatever seas the ship may be, the relative position of this Star is ever an unfaltering guide.

May the graduates of this school choose their pathways and careers as carefully as the mariner has chosen his. May the "North Star" of their lives be ever faithful and true in guiding to peace, prosperity, service, and happiness.

Mr. John Hofferty

In distant years when mirth is melancholy,
When boisterous shouts become but dismal sighs,
This class may fathom present folly,
And realize the joy now in disguise.

The dizzy, whirling orbit of eighteen,
At forty years may think a bit on now,
With sight unblinded by these petty scraps
And intrigues which conceal the nonce, I trow.

'Tis then this moment's dizzy ecstasy
Will throb in a nostalgic memory
As apex of a life when born declines,
Yet tells eternally that old story:

A life whose happiest hours are lived in school,
And then, oh irony, with grudge or hate
Which later changes to a drear regret,
Bemoaning youth's then dead delight—too late.

LOOKING BACKWARD

(WITH APOLOGIES TO BELLAMY)

1932—Who fails to remember his advent into that mysterious and long-awaited Junior High School? The thrill of it! To be one of a huge factory which daily moved about at set hours to specific classes now called periods, and to be one of the group which ate in a real cafeteria every noon was a privilege indeed. The thrills grew. An audiophone was something remarkable to be spoken of at home. There were school newspapers and stickers, and book covers, and all kinds of sports. There was even a school magazine, and one could make contributions like a real author. Remember your first attempt at fiction writing which you earnestly passed in and lost forever more? Recall also the first time anything of yours was accepted and how absolutely curdled you feel to read it today?

How we used to revere the Seniors in those days. They were absolutely above our ken, yet do you feel that wonderful today especially after you have received your report card?

The girls used to be horrified at the flagrant use of lipstick(!) and rouge but take a look around now. The boys used to stand in mute adoration before their football and others sports' heroes, and now some of them have attained the longed-for sweaters. How time flies!

1933—Ah that year when the feminine joys(?) of sewing were put aside for those of faithfully turning out burned pastry and unedible vegetables! The male members of the class were thrilled to be actually working in a real high school shop. The pinched fingers and slightly sawed skin assumed a new and more honorable significance. A new significance was also given to that hitherto simple subject called arithmetic, now called mathematics and no longer simple. The intricacies of simple things such as this one caused much anguish in our tender hearts—If A has  $x$  apples and B has to walk  $m$  miles to L to obtain a new Easter outfit, how much will H apricots cost when onions are cheap and Aunt Lydia has a new green feather in her hat?

Also we discovered about this time that to our intense disgust the wind didn't just blow and the ocean didn't just flow (a rhyme!) but that there was rhyme and reason to them somewhere (we're still a bit foggy about some of it but we did learn that). Geography, in other words, became a new and intensely deadly subject.

History also became appalling. We were forced to take millions of notes on laws and rules and acts which we only had to study over again in U. S. History. Remember the mourning the boards were draped in preparatory to a test?

1934—At last life began to be worth living. We were sufficiently grown to have a real class organization and we were almost in High School! And our first class dance which in most cases was our first dance. 'Member how we dashed around asking about dresses and gloves and were you wearing organdy and who were you going with and didn't you think that—and so ad infinitum. The charming songs were finally sung to doting parents and the dance arrived. The female contingent was decked out en masse in the good old organdy, and it felt quite thrilled to hang onto the arm of anything in pants. Whoever said the romantic age was passed, didn't ever visit this school.

Life that year wasn't all thrills I regret to say. We really had to work sometimes, altho' those were still the days when we had time to read library books in the study periods. And our first introduction to Latin when we took the college course was most terrible. Remember those stories about Lucius and somebody-or-other else who did the stupidest things in order that we might learn Latin.

Oh the fun we had with algebra! We began to know a little something about homework then and a little more about high school work. And in English remember that first introduction to Shakespeare in "The Merchant of Venice" and how we all declaimed parts from it and rewrote the ending.

1935—The thrills of the ninth grade over, remember how relieved you felt to be actually and officially a part of the senior high (at least I got there even if you didn't)? The sad part of the ninth grade had been that we were too old to condescend to mere seventh and eighth graders, but unfortunately we were also far, far, too young to expect anything but mere tolerance from the senior high.

The bitter struggle with languages continued. From the thrilling (?) battles of Caesar one turned to the study of French. The corridors resounded with the grunts and squawks of the sweating innocents trying to absorb various sounds. As vocabulary words were forced on us, we commenced reading insipid or infantile stories to add still more to our humble knowledge. This store of knowledge was called into desperate use during the test when anyone in the class could have heard a feather hit the floor like a ton of bricks.

Some, however, scorned this type of joy and preferred to dissect harmless frogs, and starfish who had never done them any wrong.

More joy was added to the overflowing cups when we took up geometry. All other math became child's play when it came to proving propositions. We also found there were innumerable ways of proving the theorem of Pythagoras, none of which we ever learned including the one we were supposed to.

Those courageous souls who forfeited the above joys to be a secretary and marry the boss thrilled to the tinkle of the typewriters as they wrote thousands of utterly meaningless and asinine phrases. The great trouble was the stupid things didn't always work and quite often (remember the hours after school) they failed to land in the right places. Also preconceived ideas of nice simple arithmetic problems were rudely smashed when they collided with some of the things you had to do in business arithmetic.

1936—Time Marches On! The eleventh grade—almost a Senior and we had already begun to swell a little from anticipation. However, all that year wasn't fun. Some of us unfortunates struggled under a burden of five majors. Oh, the joy of having a date with the one-and-only and also five subjects homework when each teacher expected at least an hour on his subject. Guess what you did!

And remember too how in junior high you used to love the assemblies and look forward to them. Now you found yourself despising them from the depths of your heart and were pleasantly surprised when one was any good. Let me hasten to add that any assembly which came during class period was fully acceptable no matter how bad it might be.

In the college course the thrills of chemistry and biology were ever with us. Yet how disappointed we were when nothing serious happened the whole year. We would recall and ever hear now harrowing tales of eyes nearly blinded or terrible scars from nitric and sulphuric acid. The most that ever happened to us was runs in our stockings from some spattered nitric.

1937—At last! The never-to-be-forgotten joy of being a Senior. The thrill is never the same again, nor could it ever be as enjoyable with five grades to lord it over. On the traffic squad those with a domineering turn of mind could exercise their traits with sneering glee. On the cafeteria squad much the same idea was there only we could gather round, talk, and enjoy ourselves. Thus we either made the infants envy the noble Senior or appalled them with our frivolity. However, we were able to stalk up and down very haughtily and act as one aloof from the common herd.

Then of course we always had each other's pictures to gape over and make the most pleasant and hypocritical remarks about this or that toothy leer. Any group gathered round in the corridor was a signal for a huddle over somebody's pictures. The appearance of a teacher was the signal for a rapid breakup.

Everybody was getting a bit more blasé about all the romances, young and old, and no longer did the cry "Jimmy's got a gur-rl" resound when a young lady was escorted by a young gentleman (?). However, no one resisted the temptation to put in a few digs here and there, and some of them had claws.

However school had to go on despite the new excitement, and typing, physics, shorthand and all the rest went on for weary weeks. The poor slaves to physics went around with a mildly puzzled look similar to that of the students taking fourth year math (trigonometry and solid geometry) all looking as if they didn't know which direction they were headed (as most of them didn't). English continued to try to make us appreciate English literature and French continued to try and make us appreciate French (supposedly) literature. By the time we had reached our last year in French we began to wonder who really could get the lowest mark, and the keenest competition developed between the class members.

We were delighted or indignant, according to type, to find that Senior U. S. history does not require so much in the way of dates as it does knowledge in writing compositions. History had a funny way of developing into a geography class, and we learned the most amazing facts about Lancaster, Penn. Did you know that it was United States capitol for a day? Also we discussed quite a few other things including polygamy, the gold problem, and how our class members would look in khaki. English turned into almost a year of poetry, and we waded through volumes and wrote hundreds of papers and reviewed libraries full of books, good and bad, old and new. (Incidentally our benevolent professor has a book worth thirty-five bucks if you ever get broke.)

Now to return to the more pleasant things of life. The girls of the good old Girls' Club gave the fair dames a chance to model their latest in semi-formals at their dance and did they shine! In the glory of the rainbow and all for vanity just like Eve's fig leaves! How time flies! The Bunny Hop brought with it a new era of letting the decorations stay up for a while.

About the last month of school all the tender-hearted and loyal began to feel a little queer about leaving the good old alma mater. The looks drooped, and even a tear or two was shed. After final report cards we can quite imagine a few tears being shed and not from sadness at leaving either.

The usual fight over caps and gowns, dance favors, and dates took place but as usual everything cleared up. The crowd marched, the orchestra played, and the couples were duly received. Then graduation! Diplomas and new clothes pleasantly mixed with a sadness and a gladness and the Class of '38 had vanished through the portals.

BURNING RETURNS

1. Behind me lay the sullen Styx, ahead the oraele of Hades.
Where sits the aged prophetess, near mingling with the shades.
2. She favored me with sightless glance, and led me to the well
Wherein I saw what was to be, and what I was to tell.
3. The bulky Homer led the way, a Terrible Turk by trade.
And Jimmy Wells was selling junk, and oh! the dough he made.
4. Bill Phinney painted pastorals, the best since Audubon.
While Bowlby slaughtered melodies, yet lived to see the dawn.
5. Lass Becker staged her one-man plays, the Skinner of her age,
And Brother did a Cunningham; his column's quite the rage.
6. Oh Hanigan's a yannigan with Stengle at the Hive,
But soon he's House of David bound the way the whiskers thrive.
7. Big Arthur's gone Hawaii now, to coach there in the fall.
He took Hawaii off the map (it always was so small).
8. DeVries became an Imagist; his poetry's the tops;
Dave Pitman had a swingster band but now he's peddling mops.
9. The medico is Macomber (when he's not on the Blue),
Brittania still rules o'er the waves but Kent rates number 2.
10. Ed Gartland passed thru M. I. T. (he spanned the Quincy Pool,
So if the tide should e'er come in, Squantum could go to School).
11. Society is up-grade bound, New York has 4-0-2.
For Frankie and Georgina moved up to Park Avenoo.
12. The Eagles won the City League; they're champeens of the Shore,
But Sonny Ela's the league prex, and Conroy keeps the score.

13. If you should pass thru Pottleston, and accidentally stop,
Please visit Mrs. Munro Wells, she runs a Fashionne Shoppe.
14. And Nature's balm to plighted love appears in a gazette
As Fontaine fills the bi-line (altho' the stuff's all wet).
15. "My friends," he said, "I'm what you need," and doff his hat he doth.
Now Bickie Hall's a counselor (he practiced here at North).
16. Tho' Toscannini's day is gone, opera's still the same,
For Consta Dennisonni has reached the peak of fame.
17. While McNamara's just a myth, and six day grinds are no,
Will Cameron still rides the wheel, and makes the turnstile go.
18. The Shalit grill is popular when summer dries the sky;
They have a raffle every week to lure the passer-by..
19. The briny deep is, oh, so safe for swimmers and for yachters
Because Jenks' Rowboat Service patrols the rippling waters.
20. John Carleton's on the radio; he feeds the gags to Benny.
Sometimes he tries to steal a laugh (but never garners any).
21. But now my vision swirled around; my senses roek'd and reel'd,
And I was forced to turn away from what the well revealed.
22. In haste I fled the dismal spot, ignored the billboards bright,
Of Henry's Advertising firm, still blazing in the night.
23. I had hardly crossed the Styx again chock-full of all this lore
When Chapman's angered strikebreakers were picketing the shore.
24. But having reached my first abode, the home of mice and men,
I swore by all reliable to ne'er return again.
25. So spare yourself this journey, friend, and take it straight from me
Who know the future like a book and all that is to be.

A SILLY SYMPHONY

I heard a thousand joyful notes come singing through the air;
Some mournful notes, some tearful notes, they too were singing there.

Their import struck me speechless; their meaning made me dumb,
For they sang a silly symphony of that which is to come.

Each note there told a story of some one that I knew.
I knew not why the notes should lie and so I thought them true.

They said that Robert Williams is married to his love,
The fair Miss Connie Dennison, his little turtle dove.

Stan Nelson won Jean Owen; he wooed her quite a while.
When Dick Keene heard this story, he chased Stan for a mile.

Ned Walker is a movie star, out at Hollywood;
At making love scenes in his pictures, he is very good.

Dot Ryan's thrown down Eddie, and the time is coming mighty nigh
When she'll marry "big" Paul Tupper, the apple of her eye.

The notes came on, loud was their song; their end I could not see,
And these stories of the future they kept whispering to me.

Phil Navin is the leader of the Philharmonic band,
And in front of cheering crowds he takes his haughty stand.

Bill Macomber's a pupil at Harvard College now;
If a prof can't do a problem, Bill gets up and shows him how.

Sonny is now a sailor upon the briny deep
But his wife (née Janet Cheney) has to stay ashore and weep.

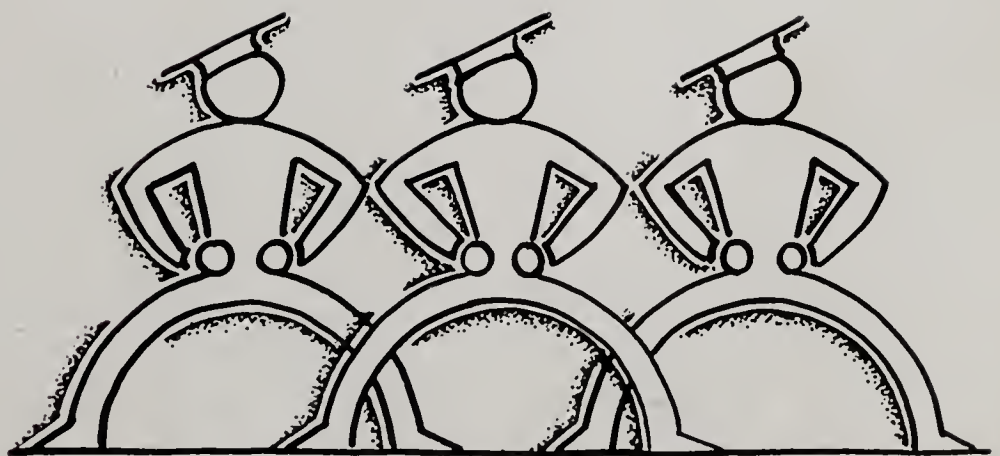

Bob Yutz still chases Jennie, but only Sundays now,
For he is a simple farmer with a tractor and a plow.

The notes went by, and so did I, for it was getting late
And with a dog about a man I had to keep a date.

These stories sounded silly but I pass them on to you;
You may take them or leave them, what e're you choose to do.

I hope you will believe me, but now my tale is done
And so ends—"The Silly Symphony of That Which is to Come."

MANET AND YEAR BOOK STAFF

The Manet has, besides matching the quality and popularity of its former issues, made marked improvements in its two publications of the 1938 season. Notably among these were its becoming fundamentally a school magazine apart from its former use as a yearbook. This meant that under the supervision of Miss Meisner, with whom the staff eagerly coöperated, the book could bring about several innovations, chief among which figured a popular serial mystery story. This had not previously been attempted, but nevertheless met with general approval. Also The Manet varied its offerings, having in one issue a clever sports story, in addition to lively write-ups on North's sports events themselves. Along with more cartoons and drawings than had been previously published, The Manet advanced notably on its ever-progressive path. The inspiration of the faculty advisor and the editor-in-chief, plus the respect of the staff, combined to produce one of the most excellent school magazine years North has yet known.

For the first time in the history of the school, a yearbook has been published by the Senior Class. Naturally the staff is proud of its work and hopes that the precedent now established will be continued in the future. To have nothing by which, in comparison, to judge its work, to set a standard and then follow it—these have constituted the main problems of the staff. But, under the guidance of Miss Meisner and Mr. Hofferty, the staff has spared no effort in making North's first yearbook not only an attractive keepsake but also a model for the future.

HONOR SOCIETY

The Honor Society, still among the newer organizations at North, has gone far during the last year toward advancing its aims. It is now firmly established with its high ideals among the worthy institutions. On May 2 the society received into its ranks fifty new members, carefully selected from the Junior and Senior classes. The requisites for both the new and old members involve the development of character, the desire to be of service, the possession of leadership, and an enthusiasm for scholarship. This year, too, the Honor Society lived up to its reputation by providing for the induction services an excellent speaker who was enjoyed by all, President Speare of Northeastern University.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a group of twenty-one students who represent the entire Senior unit. Each week it meets during the first period on Monday to discuss the current problems and to suggest remedies. It acts as a clearing house for the new ideas and suggestions of the students and as an advisory board for the other school organizations. The activities of this body are many and varied. During the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons it assisted in the collection and distribution of the various contributions. Several character posters were bought by this organization and will be placed at strategic points around the building. Several of the features of the Courtesy Campaign owed their origin to this group. In addition the Council has also picked the traffic squad for the coming year.

Members of the Council have the privilege of attending the State Conventions of Student Councils which are held during the year. This year six members attended the Eastern Massachusetts Convention at Dedham where they gained many profitable ideas and suggestions.

THE SENIOR GIRLS' CLUB

The Senior Girls' Club, sponsored by Miss Crockett, has served in several capacities during the year. The usual social work was efficiently conducted, and the bond of friendship among the girls at North was greatly increased. At Thanksgiving and at Christmas highly creditable contributions were made by the pupils under the club's supervision. The organization also provided various types of entertainment for its members and for the faculty. Two novel afternoons of fun were spent in the cafeteria, the first, with the girls dressing each other in newspaper costumes; the second, in conducting an indoor track meet.

A picturesque Japanese tea was held in the cafeteria after Miss Perkins had presented an interesting account of her trip to China, illustrated by motion pictures. Among the other undertakings of the club were the following: an outing, lectures, a style show, a Mothers' tea, and a play. Especially popular was the diversion provided in the auditorium at lunch time by many talented girls.

In May the Seniors transferred the traditions of the Girls' Club to the newly initiated Juniors. These new members will hereafter support the activities and projects of the Club, which have proved a vital part of life at North.

THE HI-Y CLUB

Shortly after the beginning of the school year the Hi-Y Club held its first meeting at which plans were made for the rest of the year. The Club secured the services of many interesting speakers, among them Mayor Burgin. The Club has had a very worthwhile and enjoyable year. In December several of the members accompanied Mr. Hardy to the Older Boys' Conference at Malden, a truly inspiring experience for all those who attended. The Christmas party given by the Club was thoroughly enjoyed and the annual outing a great success. The success of this year has been made possible by the generous and whole-hearted leadership of Mr. Hardy.

TRI HI-Y CLUB

This year is the second year in which the Tri Hi-Y club has been an active group at North. The membership includes forty-five girls, under the leadership of president, Constance Dennison; vice president, Violet LeBlanc; secretary, Helen Collins; and treasurer, Priscilla Rogerson. Mr. Hardy and Miss Stevens have devoted much time in assisting as sponsors of the club. The meetings on each Thursday, alternate at the Quincy Y. M. C. A. and at North. In the schedule for this year, accommodations were made to include a variety of speakers, social events, and other informal gatherings. Some of the speakers who addressed the club were Miss Maud Howes, Mr. Stacy Southworth, Mr. George Phillips, Mr. William Gaige, and Rev. George Gilchrist. One of the most impressive programs of the year was Parents' night, when the induction ceremonies were conducted for the new members. At a recent meeting officers were elected for next year. They are: Gene Sprague, president; Carolyn Chapman, vice president; Shirley Wainwright, secretary; and Inez Simmons, treasurer. With these girls as officers, next year should also be another important year in Tri Hi-Y.

OPERETTA

The Mikado . . . . .	William Cowley
Nanki-Poo . . . . .	Herbert Ryan
Ko-Ko . . . . .	Robert Bowlby
Pooh-Bah. . . . .	Donald Blatt
Pish-Tush . . . . .	Andrew Randall
Yum-Yum . . . . .	Constance Dennison
Pitti-Sing . . . . .	Luella Eaton
Peep-Bo . . . . .	Jeanna Mattern
Katisha . . . . .	Inez Simmons
Mikado's Umbrella Bearer . . . . .	John Cowley

Music, lights, colorful scenery, effective costumes—the curtains opened on the North Quincy High School Glee Club's and Orchestra's presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado." Not only was the general effect professional, but also the individual acting was fine. From his first appearance as Ko-Ko, the Lord High Executioner, Bob Bowlby showed evidence of talent, which, with time and training, might make him a comedian. Donald Blatt as Pooh-Bah, the Lord High Everything Else, earned a large share of praise. His part demanded skillful acting, and he admirably filled the difficult role. Connie Dennison as Yum-Yum was sweet, roguish, and merry by turns. She sang beautifully and played her part with a dainty appeal which will not be soon forgotten. Inez Simmons as Katisha had perhaps the most difficult role, which she succeeded in filling perfectly. The Mikado himself was fearful and wonderful to behold. No less worthy of praise were Herbert Ryan as Nanki-Poo, Andy Randall as Pish-Tush, Luella Eaton as Pitti-Sing, and Jeanna Mattern as Peep-Bo. We must not forget Jackie Cowley, the Mikado's umbrella bearer who added much to the comedy. The chorus and orchestra provided the necessary atmosphere. Altogether, "The Mikado" coached by Miss Christman and Miss Peck, was the best operetta ever presented at North.

THE BAND

The Band directed by Miss Christman has provided much entertainment at various school functions throughout the year. The forty-four members of this organization began the year's activities with their support of the football season. At these fall games, the band, under the splendid field drill of Mr. Rogers and the leadership of Drum Major Philip Navin, perfected its field exhibition and marching tactics. For these activities the band was highly commended. In March the band gave its annual concert, a decidedly creditable performance. Also in March the band played for the Quincy Chamber of Commerce; in April it provided a colorful background for the Bowling Tournament; early in May it marched in the parade at the unveiling of the Police Memorial. On May 7 the band attended the State Music Festival at Fall River, where they tied with Medford for first place in marching.

THE SENIOR ORCHESTRA

Another successful year has been completed by the Senior Orchestra under the direction of Miss Ruth Christman. The orchestra has participated in many outside activities as well as in those connected with the school. The North orchestra was represented in the Quincy All-High School Orchestra which broadcasted in February. Later the orchestra played at the Quincy Band Concert and at the Instrumental Concert. The Senior orchestra also took part in the State Music Festival held in Fall River. Some of the members represented North at the New England Festival held in New London, Connecticut, and at the Music Clinic held at Jordan Hall with Arthur Fiedler as guest conductor. The entire orchestra played at several assemblies and furnished the instrumental part of the operetta, The Mikado.

THE STRING ENSEMBLE

The String Ensemble is a select group of girl musicians under the direction of Miss Dorothy Beesley. The Ensemble has become rather well known and has been asked to play at many outside functions. Because it is a school organization, the girls have furnished music for both Senior and Junior assemblies. Two outstanding engagements at which this group played were the Senior Class Play and the Junior Carnival.

SENIOR HIGH GLEE CLUB

Some people said they couldn't do it, but North's Glee Club has done it! Under the direction of Miss Christman, they prepared an operetta as well as the music for the May Festival in Fall River and for the New England Festival in Burlington, Vermont. The Senior Glee Club has also served the assemblies on various occasions, particularly at Christmas time when, assisted by the Junior Glee Club and the two chorus groups, it gave a very impressive Christmas program. To lead up to this program the Glee Club gave several broadcasts of Christmas Carols. It also contributed several selections to the Thanksgiving broadcast.

REPORTERS

For the first time in several years North has had a regular corps of reporters keeping the city informed of her doings. Each Friday a section in the Quincy Ledger has been filled with reports from North. Under the supervision of Mr. Foy, pupils cover athletic meets, clubs, social events, assemblies, and anything else of interest. These reporters are drawn from all the grades and are assigned to a particular phase of North activity.

This year the work has been rather experimental. Next year Mr. Foy hopes to have a large staff and an organized unit with officers. Cub reporters should keep this in mind: Make the city conscious of North Quincy High School.

Row 3—Helen Collins, Claire Germain, Constance Dodds, Charlotte Butterworth, Eileen Gallagher, Ruth Dunn, Olive Perrin, Vesta Moore, Helen Ajemian, Helen McCauley, Myral Raffin, Lueille Lundy, Elsie Mainwaring, Rita McFarland, Margaret McClean, Virginia Merrill, Absent, Olive Merrill and Melvia Sloop.

THE LIBRARY STAFF

As in other years the library staff has been of great assistance to North. To keep the library running smoothly each girl is assigned to a certain duty, such as dating books, stamping magazines and permits, returning slips to the study halls, and pasting newspaper clippings in notebooks. In addition the library staff keeps the bulletin board posted with attractive covers of especially interesting books and with notices of interest to the whole school.

The staff each year enjoys two social events which are always eagerly awaited. The first was a Christmas party, held in the library; the second, a picnic supper, with food cooked over an open fire. Thus a member of the staff enjoys pleasurable activities and also renders valuable service to the school.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Photography Club was organized by a group of amateur photographers who wished to increase their information and enjoyment of that subject. The club, under the sponsorship of Mr. French, held its first salon in January. Four teachers acted as judges and the prize-winning photographs were placed on exhibition in the library. For the most part the meetings have been informal discussions about cameras, equipment, and the latest developments in photography.

Row 3—Mr. Sylvia, Waldo Finney, George Gale, Alfred Ela, Richard Desrosiers, Rodney Perkins, Richard Knowles, Knox Ruggles, Charles Hill, Jack Foran, James Fennell, Edward Roberts, Walter Roach.

THE GROUNDS PATROL

The Grounds Patrol is an organization which has rendered a very important service to the school during the past year. Under the guidance of Mr. Sylvia, the patrol has attempted to keep the school grounds presentable and to stop all student activities which might lead to injuries. The Grounds Patrol so far has a good record, inasmuch as there have been no serious accidents during the lunch periods and the school grounds have been presented a neat appearance. The Junior patrol has been notably efficient, while the Senior patrol is not far behind. This group depends for the most part on the coöperation of the student body, a coöperation which it has thus far always received.

THE TRAFFIC SQUAD

The Traffic Squad, under the supervision of Miss Coyle, is the largest service organization at North. Its purpose is to keep the traffic between classes orderly and efficient. The squad is divided into four groups, one for each floor, with a captain and a lieutenant as well as a faculty advisor for each group. A meeting of each group is held the first Monday of every month for the discussing of problems that have arisen. This squad has served faithfully and its work is appreciated by the entire school.

FOOTBALL

After downing a powerful Weymouth eleven, undefeated since 1935, the North Quincy football squad ended its season in great fashion by tying and almost winning the important Quincy clash. These two games and the season-opener with Milton wherein the Northern representatives displayed much promising power were the high spots the past season. Probably the most thrilling tilt was the sensational 6-0 victory of the power-house Weymouth clan, with Captain Bill Phinney doing the only scoring. The scoreless-tie game with the keyed-up Quincyites was less nerve-tingling but fully as well-played and closely-contested. Bill Ryan, the hard-running back who was constantly on the bench because of injuries, left a hole in the first string backfield that could not be completely filled despite the presence of other very capable backs. One of the most outstanding players was Frankie Gilday, the fastest man on the team. He and "Larry Kelley" Bray formed the strongest pair of flank men on the South Shore. Art Bilodeau, the bulky, fast-moving tackle will leave a big gap in the ranks when he moves on this year. Al Jago, Dickie Hourahan, Captain Bill Phinney, Georgie Reilly, Ross Hanigan, and Joey Goode are some more stalwarts who did their jobs well and are passing on.

Row 3—Robert Peterson, Alfred Smith, Kenneth Simpson, Frank Carroll, Carl Wicklund, David Hart, Edward Moody, Anders Erickson.

Row 2—Mr. West, Byron Isbell, William Todd, Francis Foley, Oliver Backus, Russell Hardy, John Terrio, Franklin Walter, Austin Norton.

CROSS-COUNTRY

With the return of but one letter man, Stan Mellish, hopes for a successful North cross-country season were not bright, but under the close scrutiny of Coach Donald West the candidates developed fast and a very successful team was soon formed.

The team participated in just eight dual meets, winning six (6) and losing two (2) for a very fine record. In these meets a few boys did outstanding work, namely, Ed Schoefield, Paul Durup, and Warren Goodie. Schofield twice established new records, one at Chelsea and one at Weymouth. As a whole the boys did well and they proved this fact by annexing sixth place in the New England Inter-scholastic cross-country run held at Providence, R. I.

At the close of the season the following boys received letters: Captain Russ Hardy, Edward Schoefield, Paul Durup, Warren Goodie, Lawrence Terrio, Douglas Dunn, Fred Campbell, and Kenneth Simpson.

The team will lose heavily by graduation but even so a bright future is predicted because of the Sophomore and Junior talent coming up.

BASKETBALL

The only reason North Quincy did not have an undefeated season this year was that someone made the costly mistake of placing three eventual Tech Tourney teams on the schedule, and these annoying three teams accounted for all the Raider defeats. With nothing to build on, Coach John Mullarky took over the team and paced it through a successful season. Their three best-played games were all losses, to Medford, Quincy, and Weymouth, all on the home court. But, disregarding the games, the biggest result of the 1938 season was the appearance of an abundance of promising Sophomores and Juniors; enough to form a strong foundation for the teams of '39 and '40. The greatest reward for a good season is a Tech Tourney invitation and let's hope North can gain one either next year or the following season. But for the present, congratulations to Jack DeVries, Dubsie Reilly, Captain Timer Ryan, Ronnic Darling, Bill Phinney, Harry Steele, Guy Leighton, and Coach Mullarkey for their part in this year's success.

BADMINTON

Badminton is a sport which is comparatively new at North, but which has become rapidly popular since its introduction. Through the active interest which the sponsor, Miss Savage, has shown, much enthusiasm has been aroused among the pupils and the faculty. The group is made up of about thirty girls who play in the school gym. The only necessary requirement for admission to the group is a badminton racquet.

Row 2—Kay McLaughlin, Justine Tonry, Marion Patstone, Priscilla Matthews, Peggy Henry, Margaret McNeice, Marjorie Lyons, Eleanor Flood.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

As a result of Miss Perkins' unique leadership, North students can be proud of their two unrivaled girls' basketball teams.

Because of the many popular activities carried on in the school gym during the winter months, the girls could not get together for practice until February. Every Tuesday afternoon over one hundred Senior girls faithfully reported to the gym for active playing. Although Miss Perkins had selected two teams composed of the speediest girls, unforeseen circumstances prevented her from staging the annual Alumni and Quiney tussles. Undoubtedly, had these games taken place, our girls would have brought home added honors to the school.

Janet Cheney and Helen Collins, who were guards in last year's first team, have again come through in top shape. Mildred Parsons, a fast stepping Junior, has been one of this year's dangerous guards. Small but fast are Violet LeBlanc and Sarah DiCarlo, forwards. Helen Butts and Barbara Keith, the two alert centers, are the linking chains of the team.

Each year this sport is becoming more popular among the girls, and with the supervision of Miss Perkins, the future will undoubtedly hold great prospects for North's girl basketekers.

WRESTLING

The wrestling team, coached by Mr. Forrest, who supplanted Mr. MacDonald as wrestling coach because of the latter's inability to give the time to the team because of outside affairs, had another highly successful season. Under the leadership of Co-captains Ed Cameron and Dick Hourahan and Manager Jimmie de Pourtales, the team won five matches, lost one, and tied one. Weymouth and Needham were among the teams defeated, while Quincy won one match and lost another to North. Highlights of the season were North's defeat of Weymouth and the tie with Phillipps Andover, a team which is on a par with many college wrestling teams. By winning the Old Colony Wrestling League Championship for the third time, the boys earned for the school permanent possession of the coveted Old Colony Wrestling Trophy. North also won the State Wrestling Championship, Class A, for the fourth successive time. Ed Cameron, Bill Cameron, John Carleton, and Art Connors won individual championships, while Dick Hourahan, Dave Brown, and Ken Anderson placed second. Phil Navin was a sure bet to win a championship also, but was forced to content himself with a third, because of an injured arm. In Class B, North lost the State Championship to Weymouth by one point, Van Gemert, Richards, and Cavicchi receiving titles, while Walker, Sullivan, Assmus, and Vogel also placed. The outlook for next year is promising, with Bob Bradley, Dave Brown, and Art Connors, along with Junior High wrestlers Bob Leavitt, Ozzie Morin, and Eliot Patten expected to hold varsity positions. Congratulations to Mr. Forrest and the boys!

TRACK

The 1938 Track Team, with such veterans as Gilday, Durup, Walker, Goode, Buddenhagen, Hanson, DeVries, and Jago, is in the midst of a very successful season. Coach Don West feels that this year's team should continue along the primrose path of victory in the same manner as last year's undefeated aggregation.

The Red and Black tracksters ran their first three opponents, Needham, Weymouth, and Attleboro, into the cinders in impressive fashion, and the boys showed their power by placing high in scoring at the New Hampshire Inter-scholastics.

Before the season was half over several new records had been placed on the books by the North flyers. Durup reduced the mile record to 4 min. 37  $\frac{4}{10}$  sec., and the half mile record to 2 min. 5 sec. Gilday the "440" to 51  $\frac{4}{10}$  sec., and Fisher raised the high jump record to 5 ft. 8  $\frac{1}{8}$  in.

Jago and Underwood have shown speed in the dashes; Mirick and DeVries have been consistent in the jumps, Goode, Buddenhagen, Dunn, and the Terrio Twins are constant threats in their events; Hanson and Ruggles have improved in the weights. With a group such as this, ably flanked by Foley, Walker, Mellish, Hardy, Schofield, and Duggan it is hoped that North this year will annex the highest honor possible—the state championship.

Row 2—Wm. Dunn, Mr. Forest, George Merrill, Robert Reilly, Donald Rogers, Kenneth Simpson, Thor Herstad, Stephen Darcy, Malcolm Stewart, Ralph Manning, Joseph Larkin, Donald Johnson, Paul Tupper.

DIAMOND SPARKLES

With the arrival of spring sunshine and warm weather comes the brightest season of the year for Coach Forest and his followers of the national pastime. With a nucleus of veteran material and an excellent turnout of over sixty hopefuls, Coach Forest has formed a squad of thirty-three players who, he believes, are most capable of controlling the destinies of the Red Raider baseball situation.

During three weeks of diligent, although somewhat intermittent practice, because of unfavorable weather conditions, a real battle for starting positions was waged. Prospects looked brighter this year for a good team with Moody, Hanigan, Pendergast, Conroy, Darling, Mayer, Phinney, Keene, Bray, Wight, and Capt. Ela, all returning veterans from last year's squad.

The team, however, was not immune to the scarlet fever germ, so, when the battery candidates reported, Dick Keene and Albie Wight were quarantined. Another setback came through the absence of "Big Fred" Cobban, veteran first-sacker, who was out of action during the season, a victim of acute appendicitis.

Very promising among the candidates were several Sophomores who turned in such notable performances that Coach Forest planned to give them competition with the varsity and outside teams, in order to mould them into formidable baseball machines for future Raider teams.

THE BOWLING CLUB

In the second year of its existence the Bowling Club has again been a real success. There were approximately eighty girls and twenty boys who enjoyed the sport this year. The girls bowled once a week or every other week, and the boys bowled every week. The meetings of this year led up to the Hearst Bowling Tournament at the Huntington Alleys in Boston. The whole group attended, and transportation was provided by some of the faculty of North. The band also accompanied the bowlers. In the tournament Harriet Matthews represented the school well by winning third prize—a medal and a brief case. Medals were also won by Marilyn Sullivan and Frances Kane.

The final event of the year was a party at which the medals were presented. During the year the members of the Club have appreciated and enjoyed the aid and advice of Mr. Sylvia and Miss Reilly.

THE PING PONG CLUB

Last year North opened Room 111 to ping pong enthusiasts. This room is equipped with three tables, made in our own shop, and with other facilities for a complete and enjoyable game. Miss Perkins heads a group of girls on Thursday afternoons, and a number of boys participate in the sport during lunch periods. This sport is rapidly becoming one of the great favorites at North.

GIRLS' RIDING CLUB

For several years the Riding Club has been regarded as one of the most enjoyable institutions at North. Miss Perkins has aroused the interest of many girls and has volunteered to teach those who wish to become acquainted with the equestrian art. Once every week in the spring and the fall the girls ride through the Blue Hills, and occasionally, under the auspices of the riding school, enjoy supper rides and weenie roasts. After a few falls and a lot of fun, the club members realize that few sports offer more to the individual, whether he be an amateur or a finished rider.

TENNIS

This year North added a new sport to its athletic repertoire and from all indications the sport is here to stay. Despite difficulty in obtaining practice courts, North Quincy's first netmen practiced steadily, although in nomadic fashion, as they divided their sessions among three courts: the Welcome G. Young playground, Faxon Field, and the Quincy Tennis Club grounds. Coach Joseph G. Foy looks for a pair of Sophomores to lead the Raider Racketeers through their inaugural season, the two being Johnny O'Connell and Charlie Watkins, excellent material for future years. The Tennis Team has five berths but only four seem certain at this writing with Pete Jenks and Kenny Knowles filling the other two positions. A nip-and-tuck battle for the remaining position is featuring the majority of the practice tilts with languid Larry Morrisson, Abba Dabba Becker, Bill Ellsworth and Ed Carpenter doing the battling. The rest of the squad comprises a Junior Varsity team and includes Brown, Dawber, Berry, Smith, Hirtle, Hampton, and Sweeney.

*Row 2—Esther deAvellar, Eudora Moore, Leonore Olsen, Elaine Ashworth, Valerie Thornhill.
Row 1—Betty Cogill, Lois Stewart, Margaret McClean, Shirley Richards, Edythe Bright,

SWIMMING

The favorite outdoor summer sport became one of the favorite indoor winter sports this winter with a group of North girls. Each Friday afternoon found the girls in the pool of the Boston Y. M. C. A. swimming under the capable direction of Miss Kelly, an instructor at the "Y." The girls benefitted greatly by the weekly lesson, and progress along the aquatic line was rapid. Diving, too, was practiced toward the end of the season. "Above all," states Miss Sherman, "we all had loads of fun."

Row 3—Mr. Clark, Margaret McNiece, Faith Eddy, Marie Gaudreau, Doris Small, Jacqueline Fitzgerald, Ruth Oettinger, Rita Melanson, Grace Joyce, Betsy Black.

Row 2—Jane Goode, Katherine McLaughlin, Eleanor Flood, Jane Egan, Barbara Keith, Sarah DiCarlo, Shirley Wilson, Alice Ball, Mae Rumrill.

ARCHERY

Much enthusiasm has been aroused among Senior girls with the establishing of archery as one of our sports here at North. Under the expert supervision of Mr. George Clark, archery was started last fall and continued through the winter months. Three targets were set up in the basement of the Quincy school where the girls practiced faithfully several afternoons a week. Archery is a sport which is excellent for aiding poor posture and which affords no end of real pleasure to all who are anxious to develop true skill. Keen competition together with beneficial exercise makes archery one of the most important sports at North.

CHEER LEADERS

Last September, when Coach Forest called the tryouts for Senior cheerleaders, more than seventy girls reported. After many trials the numbers were greatly reduced and the seven girls finally chosen spent an enjoyable and strenuous year. During the football season the girls added both color and pep to every game. Their constant companion at each game was their unique mascot "Toddy," a black baby pig. "Toddy" was an ardent "rooter" for North and also brought home the bacon a number of times during the season. The girls, however, did not confine their activities to the football games, but cheered as loudly for the basketball team. Those who are graduating relinquish their megaphones with regret but trust that the others will carry on next year.

Mary Dankert, Joseph Goode, Mr. Forest, Elizabeth King, Robert Goodoak, John Roach, Sarah Di Carlo.

THE ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Athletic Council in the second year of its existence has again served its purpose well. Its activities this year have consisted of taking charge of the sale of football and basketball tickets, of selling favors at the Quincy games, of organizing an Athletic Field Patrol which served at the football games, and of sponsoring assemblies for the awarding of varsity letters. All this has been accomplished under the able leadership of Mr. Forrest, advisor; Joseph Goode, chairman; and Betty King, assistant chairman. The members of the council consist of one boy and one girl from grades nine, ten, eleven, and twelve.

GOLF

The North Golf Team will find it difficult to replace its veteran aggregation of last year which won the Norfolk County League Championship. Before the season will have ended, the boys will meet such teams as Hingham, Norwood, Brockton, Needham, and Quincy, all difficult teams to beat. The members of the team will be captained by Vic Nelson and coached as usual by Mr. Donahue, who always gets the most out of any team he coaches. The team is comprised of Don Agnew, Fran Feeney, Roy Jeffrey, Bob Spaulding, Russ Tyler, and Coleman King. These boys, good golfers all, may rise to new heights this year in an endeavor to keep the coveted golf title here at North.

JUNIOR STUDENT COUNCIL

The Junior Student Council is composed of representatives from each of the seventh, eighth and ninth grade homerooms. In almost every case the representative in the council is the homeroom president, the only exception being in a case where the homeroom president also has a class office. The Council meets during the Club Period in Room 210, and was active during the Christmas season, having charge of Junior High contributions and the fine Christmas assembly. One of the highly successful activities of the year, the Junior Carnival, was also sponsored by the Council. Visitations to other Junior Student Councils at both Newton and Milton have been enjoyed by the group. North commends the work of the Junior Student Council under the direction of Miss Fogg.

The success and efficiency of this year's Junior High Band and Orchestra promise a fine Senior musical organization in the near future. Already the two units have been acclaimed for their unison and solo work. The winter season fairly buzzed with activity, concerts being given at the Montclair, Parker, and Quincy Schools during the winter. Also the band lent a festive touch to every Junior High football game, besides, along with the orchestra, assisting at the Junior Carnival program. Some of the soloists during the season were Paul Sweetser, Stephen Humphrey, Joyce Smith, Frank Guzzetta, Teddy Walter, Gerhard Schofer, and James Harvey. The season culminated when this Junior group played on May seventh, at the Massachusetts Music Festival in Fall River, where the orchestra won first place, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Beesley.

FIVE YEARS FROM GRADUATION

Will you be well established in a good job?

Will you be shifting from job to job because you can't find the work you want?

Will you be just out of college, without any business training to sell an employer?

Plan your future now. You will need training to be a doctor, lawyer, teacher . . . and business training if you plan to enter business.

The purpose of this program is to give the student a liberal and cultural education and a vocational competence which fits him to enter some specific type of useful employment.

College of Business Administration

Offers a college program with broad and thorough training in the principles of business with specialization in ACCOUNTING, BANKING AND FINANCE, or BUSINESS MANAGEMENT. Modern methods of instruction, including lectures, solution of business problems, class discussions, professional talks by business executives, and motion pictures of manufacturing processes, are used.

College of Engineering

Provides complete college programs in Engineering with professional courses in the fields of CIVIL, MECHANICAL (WITH DIESEL, AERONAUTICAL and AIR CONDITIONING OPTIONS), ELECTRICAL, CHEMICAL, INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING, and ENGINEERING ADMINISTRATION. General engineering courses are pursued during the freshman year; thus the student need not make a final decision as to the branch of engineering in which he wishes to specialize until the beginning of the sophomore year.

Co-operative Plan

The Co-operative Plan, which is available to upperclassmen in all courses, provides for a combination of practical industrial experience with classroom instruction. Under this plan the student is able to earn a portion of his school expenses as well as to make business contacts which prove valuable in later years.
